Guest talk with Mr. Puttaswamy R-

The Department of Statistics and Analytics in collaboration with ANOVation inaugurated its guest lecture series for the year 2023-24 in the gracious presence of Mr. Puttaswamy R. Akshita Gairola acquainted us with the day's proceedings and mentioned that Putta Sir had previously been a part of our college as a guest lecturer for the B.Voc Data Analytics class. Having heard this, Sir's transition into the role of a guest speaker was truly invigorating to witness. With experience in companies like Telstra, Genpact and HP, Sir incorporated his innate expertise on Data Analytics, Predictive Modeling and Market Research and grasped the attention of the audience.

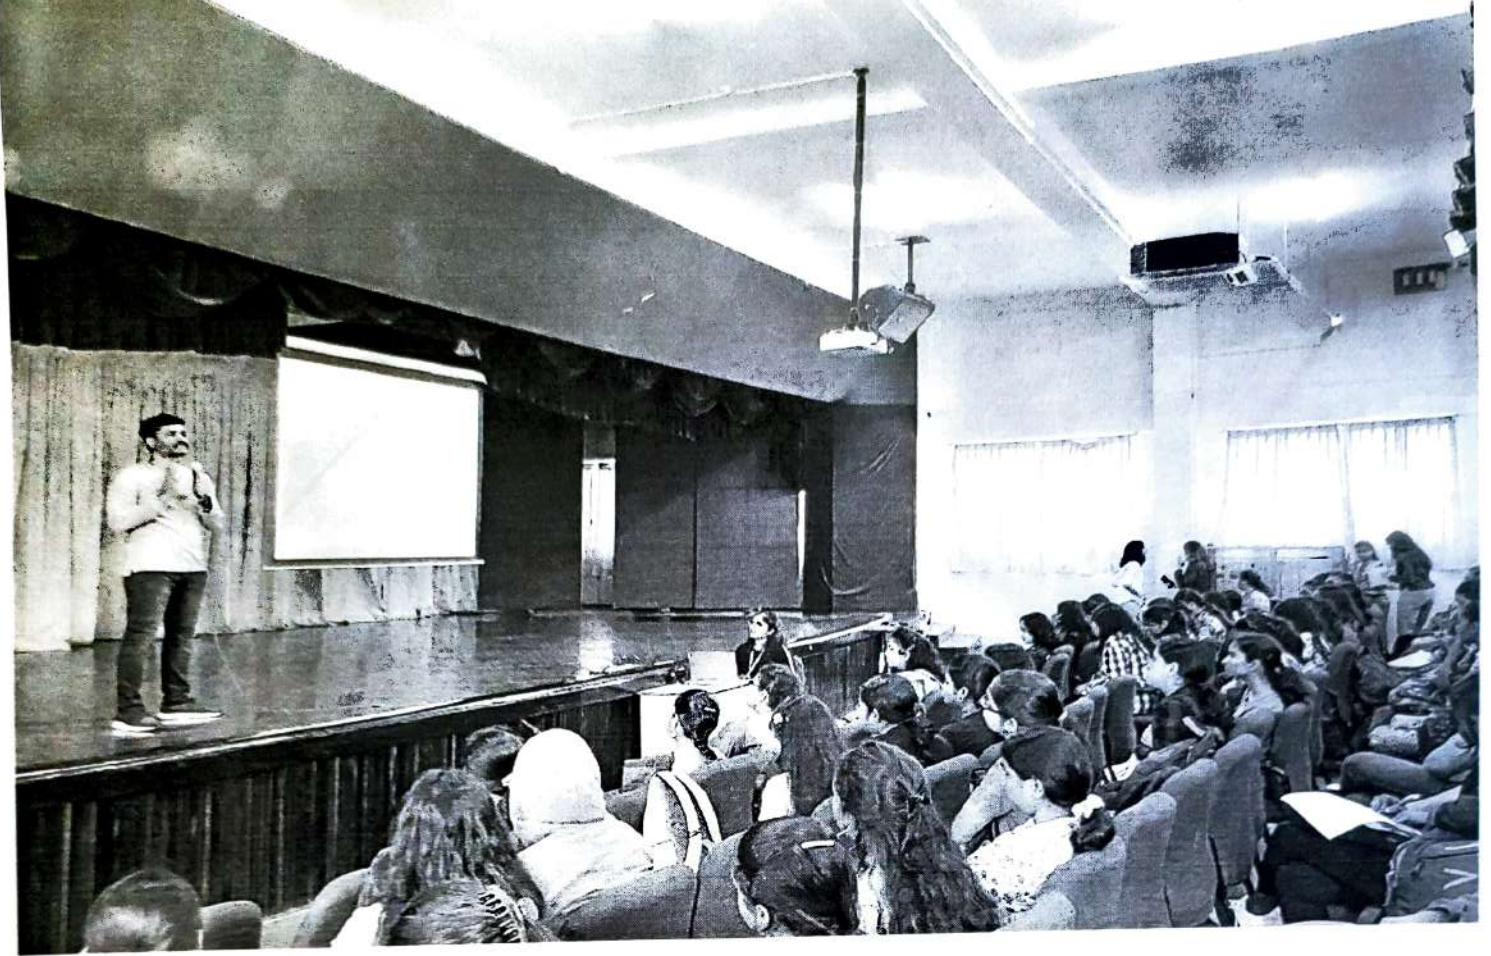

The event was further dignified by the presence of Dr. Lakshmi S.K, Dean of Natural and Applied Sciences, Ambika C, HOD, Department of Statistics and Analytics and Dr. Mamata Shiva Shankar, Assistant Professor and Vice - President, ANOVation. Dr. Lakshmi gave a formal insight into the broad prospects in the agenda, including, Database Management System, Data Warehousing and Business Intelligence. She also informed that the topic of discussion for the day was Data retrieval with a slight inclination towards data privacy.

Putta sir conquered the stage with his domain proficiency and impeccable delivery. He made everyone feel at ease by starting off with primary concepts of the meaning of data, its relevance and data types. He then touched upon the topics of Database, DBMS and RDBMS, piquing the interest of students and faculty alike. It was followed by a much awaited discussion on Data Warehousing, along with its interpretation and architecture. Sir's easy to follow, real - life and industry specific examples made the discussions highly understandable and intriguing. Sir also encouraged the students to speak their minds out and answered their queries with much gusto and enthusiasm.

As a closing statement, Sir re-emphasized on the importance of keeping oneself technologically updated about the realms of statistics and analytics. He advised future job seekers to identify their strengths, challenge themselves beyond their limits and practice daily in an attempt to strive towards individual perfectionism.

Towards the end Rumana Sethwala extended a heartfelt Vote of Thanks to Putta Sir followed by a token of appreciation which was offered by Hastha R. Rumana rightly echoed the voices of the students and thanked Sir for an insightful, thought - provoking and enriching session, which will surely act as a stepping stone to ignite curious minds and drive their minds towards the world of data. The student community can only thank the Department and the Association for making the event a successful one while they keenly look forward to attending such events in the near future.
